

The statutes associated with many offense codes have been repealed over the past six years. These offense codes have been 'retired' and retained for historical purposes only. 'Retired' offense codes will never be reassigned to a different offense. 'Retired' offense codes are denoted with the phrase 'retained for historical purposes' in the ILCS reference field.

Some offense codes had very minor changes to either the name of the offense, or the ILCS reference. These changes are denoted in bold black font. The entire ILCS reference was placed in bold though the change may have been as minor as adding or removing a suffix.

In only a few instances an offense code was both re-named and the ILCS reference updated. This only occurred when the revised offense mirrored the previous offense.

Example:

4410	previous	Destruction of Draft Card
4410	revised	Mutilation of Draft Card

Additional offense codes have been created and are represented in blue font.

Not every ILCS statute is represented in the revised code table. It will continue to be the practice of the I-UCR Program to refrain from creating an offense code for an offense that would never be reported in any of the I-UCR program reporting elements. Agencies are encouraged to create in-house codes, using the 6000 series or higher, for offenses outside the realm of UCR reporting.

Agencies are encouraged to begin use of the revised offense codes immediately.
